

Kristy Croushore

Vice President, Government Relations, Fidelity Investments

Kristy Croushore is Vice President, Government Relations for Fidelity Investments, a leading provider of investment management, retirement planning, portfolio guidance, brokerage, benefits outsourcing, and other financial products and service to more than 28 million individuals, institutions, and financial intermediaries. Since joining Fidelity in 2019, Ms. Croushore has worked to align policy outcomes with the firm's strategic objectives, advocating on behalf of the firm's interests in Washington on a range of legislative and regulatory policies before government officials. Her areas of focus include financial services regulation, broker-dealer compliance, and strategic communications planning. Ms. Croushore previously spent 16 years at the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) and its predecessor (NASD) in senior roles within the areas of government affairs, corporate communications, and operations and administration. Prior to FINRA, Ms. Croushore was a consultant with Ernst & Young, focusing on international tax and strategy projects for clients across a wide variety of sectors. Ms. Croushore hails from the Pittsburgh area and earned a BA in Finance & International Business from The George Washington University and an MBA from the University of Maryland. She has a Certificate in Legislative Studies from Georgetown University's Government Affairs Institute and holds the Certified Regulatory and Compliance Professional (CRCP®) designation from FINRA.