

Mitch Harris

Mixologist, Paradise Events

A renowned celebrity mixologist and member of the Food and Beverage Industry for over 20 years, Mitch began his career at a multi-million-dollar national restaurant chain, quickly rising to the position of General Manager. True to form, Mitch soon took on the new adventure of owning and operating his own restaurant in the Los Angeles area. It became clear throughout his early time in the industry that his true passion lay in Bar and Beverage Service, leading Mitch to found Paradise Bar and Beverage Services in 1999.

Mitch's initial introduction to the industry was steeped in the tradition of cocktail preparation, grooming him in the art and style of "Cocktail Mixology". Today, he creates cutting-edge cocktails from a fusion of fresh inspiration combined with unique, aromatic herbs and seasonal farm-to-bar ingredients. Recognized as a leading celebrity mixologist Mitch's inspiration and creativity are paving the way for future trends in the Bar and Beverage industry.

Mitch has emerged as a key celebrity mixologist, with his energy, flair, and custom cocktails garnering magazine write-ups (check out his 944 Magazine article), features on celebrity and event websites as well as appearances on many TV shows including TLC's "Battle of the Wedding Planners", The Talk, The Tori Spelling show, and Hell's Kitchen as the featured celebrity mixologist. Mitch has also showcased his skills on Ovation's "The Art of Mixology" and several of his custom cocktails have been recognized and featured by Celebrity Wedding and Event Expert David Tutera.
